OPINIONS BY JUDGE EVANS.

The following opinions were handed down by Judge Evans on Monday:

Abraham Yohe vs. Abraham Kline. Rule to open judgment.

The Court after rehearing the evidence in the case showing that there was no preponderence of testimony, only one witness against another, discharged the rule for a new trial. First, however, quoting from numerous authorities to support his position. There was nothing in the case excepting oath against oath.

Emma F. Goodhart vs. Columbia and Montour Electric Railway Co. Opinion of the Court sur motion for new trial and for judgment for defendant non obstante veredicto.

"The defendant's street passenger railway car stopped at Lime Ridge shortly after the noon hour on the day of the accident. The plaintiff and her mother boarded the car from the rear platform at that place. Upon the trial the plaintiff contended that the defendant's car was started with a sudden, violent jerk before she had had a reasonable time to take a seat, whereby she was injured. The defendant contended on the other hand that the car was started with no more than the usual and customary jerk and jolt incident to the starting of all street passenger railway cars. The question of fact was thus squarely raised and the jury found that the plaintiff's contention was correct. After quoting decisions supporting his position the Court made an order that the rule for the new trial is discharged and the motion for judgment non obstante verdicto is overruled.

A. W. Duy, counsel for the defendant took an exception to this ruling. The Court sealed a bill for the defendant.

Wilbur Hower vs. The Town of Bloomsburg. Opinion of the Court upon rule for a new trial.

"The evidence in this case was undisputed that the accident happened in broad day light; that the defect in the pavement was known to the plaintiff; that it was plainly observable, and was actually seen by him immediately before the accident; that he could easily have avoided it; that there was nothing about the character of the defect in the pavement which required more than an ordinary step to carry him over it in safety. We directed a verdict for the defendant for the reason that we were satisfied that the plaintiff from his own showing was guilty of contributory negligence."

After quoting a number of decisions applicable to the case the rule for a new trial was discharged and new trial refused.

THREE VETERANS.

On Tuesday morning Capt. A. B. Jamison of Washington, D. C. arrived in town to vote. He has for many years held a responsible position in the Treasury Department. Coming up Main street with his brother-in-law, Harry W. Sloan, he met Major James W. Chamberlin, and as they were exchanging greetings several more stopped to shake hands with these former residents, and to welcome them back to their old home. As they talked, Dr. I. W. Willits came up, and it was a pleasure to see the meeting of these three old veterans of the civil war. They had not meet for many years.

MRS. MARTHA M. DRINKER.

On Tuesday morning, November 5th, Mrs. Martha Mendenhall Drinker passed away, after an illness of only one week, from pneumonia. Her age was 73 years, 5 months and 24 days.

She was a daughter of Jackson Mendenhall, and was born in Derry township, Montour county, on May 11th, 1834. Later the family moved to what is known as the Drinker farm, across the creek at Red Rock bridge, and lived there many years.

In January, 1859, she married E. Rodman Drinker who was for many years connected with the Bloomsburg Iron Co., at Irondale, when that institution was one of the leading industries of this town. In its latter days Mr. Drinker was Superintendent of the company. He died on August 24th, 1903.

The children of this marriage are Edward M., of Mauch Chunk; Richard C., of Quincy, Mass.; Lydia W., of Bloomsburg. The deceased leaves the following brothers and sisters: Theodore Mendenhall, Miss Mary Mendenhall, and Mrs. James Kester, of Los Angeles, Cal.

The funeral was held this Thursday afternoon at the house, the services being conducted by Rev. J. W. Diggles, rector of St. Paul's church.

Mrs. Drinker was a member of the Episcopal church for many years, and she was an earnest and consistent christian woman. Her husband was a vestryman of St. Paul's church for thirty years or more, up to the time of his death.

All of the children were at home at the time of their mother's passing away, Richard reaching here only an hour before.

In the death of Mrs. Drinker another one of the old families of the town is finally broken up.

LYMAN H. HOWE COMING.

Lyman H. Howe's Moving Pictures always draw a big crowd in Bloomsburg. Year after year he comes here, and always with something new and entertaining. He will be here on Thursday evening, November 14th, and the entertainment will be given in the Normal Auditorium, under the auspices of the school. The prices of admission will be 25 and 35 cents.

The program this season is entirely new, and includes a Stag Hunt in France; Elks' Parade in Philadelphia; Great Naval Battle; In Darkest Africa; Comedy Cartoons; Runaway Automobile; Ride on the Arlberg Railway, Switzerland, and many others.

The excellence of these pictures is too well known to need any comment, and that there will be a large audience goes without saying. Secure seats early at Bidleman's Book Store.

HALLOWE'EN.

The streets were crowded on Hallowe'en night with a merry throng of masqueraders. While many were given to pranks, it was all of a good natured sort. Many of the costumes were quite elaborate and attracted considerable attention.

The disorderly and criminal practices of past years were for the most part eliminated, and very few cases of malicious mischief have been reported, which is to be commended. No one objects to the innocent and reasonable celebration of the occasion, but the excesses of past years had become such that a number of good citizens had determined to prosecute the perpetrators of any unlawful acts, and a number of private watchmen were employed for this purpose.

ANOTHER AFFINITY CASE.

Trenton Married Man Goes Wrong With a Danville Girl.

The "affinity" business is being somewhat overworked. Here is another case near home. The Sunday Ledger says:

After a married life of 16 years, C. Edward Hyke, general manager of the Trenton Rubber Company, at a reputed salary of $10,000 a year, deserted his wife and two daughters for the allurements of a pretty blonde-haired affinity of a stenographer. He fled from Trenton with the girl, and was arrested at her home in Danville, Pa., by Edward Bryant, a Philadelphia detective. He was taken to Philadelphia Saturday and Magistrate Boyle held him under $800 bail for a further hearing on Monday.

The affinity is Miss Ella M. Speering, just 23 years old. Hyke, so Bryant testified at the hearing before Magistrate Boyle, refused to live with his wife when he found his love for her had died. Ten days ago he left Trenton, telling his wife that he was called out of town on business, but would be home early that night. Mrs. Hyke waited for him. He did not appear. Instead, according to the testimony of the detective, a special delivery letter in her husband's hand writing was received. The letter was placed in evidence. It read:

"Dear Jennie: I have met my affinity. I love her and cannot think of existing without her at my side. I always thought I loved you until I met this angel. Now I cannot think of living with you any longer, on account of the great respect I have for you. We have fled together for distant parts, and you need never look for us, as it will be impossible to find us."

Mrs. Hyke, thinking of her two daughters, one 14, the other 12, more than of herself, did make an effort to find her husband, despite the fact that Hyke said it would be impossible to find him. She communicated with her brother, R. H. Firman, a prominent attorney of Erie, and Mr. Firman, very angry, came hurrying to Philadelphia. He placed the case in the hands of Detective Bryant.

The detective ascertained that Miss Speering's grandmother was dead and that the funeral was to take place Saturday. He went at once to Danville, where he addressed a registered letter to Hyke at Miss Speering's home, 257 West Mahoning street. Hyke received the letter. Then Bryant arrested him. Miss Speering became greatly excited.

"AFFINITY" BROKEN-HEARTED.

"Don't take him away," Bryant testified Miss Speering cried, and threw her arms about Hyke's neck. "Don't worry, sweetheart," Hyke replied, according to the testimony at the hearing. "They can't hang me. They can only put me in jail. That is nothing, dear. It cannot separate us forever. There is only one thing which can do that, and that is death."

"The arrangements for the funeral of the girl's grandmother were in progress when I arrested Hyke at the house," saie Bryant. "Despite that, Miss Speering followed Hyke to the railroad station. I had a hard time getting my prisoner to the train, for on the way through the streets the man and the girl would stop and bill and coo.

"Our love is beyond the law," Miss Speering said, declared Bryant, when the three arrived at the station. "You can arrest him but he will come back to me." "Yes," replied Hyke, "even though they sent me to Siberia I'd find a way to come back to my affinity. She is my soul sister and nothing mortal can keep us apart."

Hyke, according to information in the hands of the detective, comes from a prominent Erie family. Before she married Hyke 16 years ago Mrs. Hyke was Miss Jennie Firman. Both families are said to be wealthy. Hyke, it was stated, started in life as assistant manager of the Akron Rubber Company in Erie. Later he accepted an offer to become manager of the Pennsylvania Rubber Company, at Jeannette, Pa. Then he went with the Trenton Rubber Company. He and his wife were boy and girl companions.

Detective Bryant said that he has found that Miss Speering, the affinity in the case, left her home two years ago in company with W. E. Lunger, a prosperous shoe merchant, who gave up business, wife and family and went with her to Trenton. There his money gave out and he took a position as salesman in a shoe store. Miss Speering took up the study of stenography and typewriting. She obtained a position with the Trenton Rubber Company, where Hyke met her. A year ago she disappeared from Trenton.

WIFE NEVER SUSPECTED.

About the same time Hyke, it was stated by the detective, told his wife that he was called to Philadelphia on business once a week. The detective declared that he came to see Miss Speering, who had apartments in that city.

"The faithful wife never suspected that her husband had ceased to care for her." Bryant said, "It was only last summer that Mrs. Hyke went on a visit to her girlhood home in Erie. She had not been away more than a week before she received a telegram from him begging her to come home, as the house was so lonely without her. Upon her arrival she found the floors of her home strewn with flowers and a wreath bearing the words 'Welcome Home.'"

The quail hunting season opened last Friday.

The other members of the vestry in the order of their years of service are Geo. E. Elwell, J. G. Freeze, J. R. Townsend, C. W. Funston, J. G. Wells, Geo. S. Robbins and A. Z. Schoch.

KILLED A BEAR.

On Saturday, John Creveling, of Fairmount Springs, above Benton, one of the mighty hunters of that section, started out coon hunting. His dog soon had something up a tree, and Creveling after the manner of coon hunting went up the tree to root out the coon.

He found a bear, however, and bruin finding himself cornered showed fight and chased the hunter out of the tree. Mr. Creveling was the first to get to the ground. He grabbed his gun and shot the bear.

The bear was not full grawn, but was fairly good sized.

He is a graduate of Dickinson College in the class of 1906, and has been appointed to the government diplomatic service, having signed a contract for ten years. One of his first duties will be to learn the Chinese language. He already speaks French and German. Paul is a bright young man, and he will no doubt be heard from later on.

Irvin A. Snyder, proprietor of the City Hotel at Danville, and formerly of Bloomsburg, took his annual hunting trip to Maine, and returned last week with two fine deer.

He lived in a little house on the plains on the old Cherry Valley Road, between Garden City and Munson, and was rarely seen except when he went to a grocery for provisions.

He is said to have made his living from a strawberry patch which was patronized by wealthy residents of Garden City. The house in which he lived is a shanty, the ground floor answering all living porposes, with a ramshackle cot in the corner on which he slept most of his life, and on which he finally died. While the conferences, which were attended by many of the most prominent financiers of the city, were largely for the discussion of the general situation, special attention was given to the affairs of the Trust Company of America and of the Lincoln Trust Company. It was definitely announced at their conclusion that the Trust Company of America will open under more favorable conditions than at any time within two weeks.

JOHN PIERPONT MORGAN.

Intimations were given that a change in the control of the institution had either taken place or would do so in the immediate future, and that the company would be merged with another institution, which has not felt the stress of the financial crisis in such a marked degree.

A NAVAL BATTLE.

Torpedo Boat Crew Mutiny and Fight At Vladivostok.

Vladivostok, Nov. 5.—An exciting little naval battle took place in this harbor between the mutinous crew of a Russian torpedo-boat destroyer and their loyal comrades. The mutineers finally were subdued, but not before a number of men had been killed and wounded.

The mutinous boat is the Skory, and she gave fight to the gunboat Mandschur, the destroyers Garsovoz, Smely, and Serditz, and the garrison of the harbor forts, manned by the Twelfth Regiment of Artillery.

The Skory soon was overwhelmed, and she had to be beached to save her from sinking. This was not accomplished, however, before her guns had done considerable damage and several officers and men of the other ships had been killed or wounded.

The crew of the Skory were incited by agitators, includidng some Jews, who had managed to get on board and take charge of the destroyer. She steamed out into the harbor with the red bag flying, and at once opened fire on the town and forts.

DAREN'T CATCH BIG CROOKS.

Chief O'Brien Tells Chicago Mayor Police Would Lose Their Jobs.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Mayor Busse was told by Capt. H. D. O'Brien, Chief of the City Detective Bureau, that the police do not dare arrest the big thieves and crooks which infest the city for fear of losing their places.

The Mayor was apparently amazed, and replied: "You, O'Brien, know every crook in Chicago. Why are they not driven out of Chicago?"

"Why, Mr. Mayor," O'Brien replied, "these fellows are bigger than I am in the department, and they would soon get my job. Their political pull would mean that I would be transferred."

The Mayor offered to put the matter to a test. He told Capt. O'Brien to go out and arrest some of the big fellows and see what would happen. O'Brien declined. And now Mayor Busse threatens to overturn the whole Police Department.

Rescuer Dove 40 Feet.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 5.—Reba Haley, fifteen years old, of No. 13 Decatur street, Manchester, jumped from a bridge into the James River here in an attempt to commit suicide She was rescued by Carl Blackwell, nineteen years old, who dived forty feet form the bridge and held her above water until assistance could reach him. Benjamin F. Varnier, a teamster, an eyewitness to the affair, jumped into a boat and arrived just in time to save the couple. The girl has just recovered from an attack of typhoid fever.

Fur Fashions for These Days.

Fashions in furs for the coming winter are of the graceful and careless looking order rather than the spruce, neat and tightly-fitting.

The coat sleeve is out of date, because of those muslin and lace underneath. A lovely three-quarter length coat of chinchilla has the dark sliding of the fur carefully treated round the figure, edged with a long band at either side ornamented with very handsome gray cords and tassels. The sleeves are moderate bell shaped, the dark part of the fur going round, and the coat is lined with ivory white satin. One finds that on the new models there is no trimming of lace or embroidery. The fashion is to let the richness and softness of the fur be its own ornament, and the grace and treatment of the making up its style.

Capes with much fullness over the arms to the elbow will be worn. The handsomest of these will have long ends down in front. The collars are not high, they are either quite plainly crossed over or turned back in revers. Some capes have not long broad ends in front, but these are the least handsome.

Muffs are curved and soft, and made to look deep and flat.

The latest bolero in furs looks like a fichu brought over the shoulders quite deeply across the arms, which have sometimes full sleeves of velvet to match the fur, and lost beneath a velvet waistband. These are appropriately called cross-over boleros, and are cosy, becoming, and convenient. Russian sable is delightful; so is ermine with white cloth and Irish lace. This thick lace alone is used with fur, and with only the rarest and richest kinds of it.—Philadelphia Record.

INSANITY THE PLEA.

Announcement has been made that insanity is to be the plea in the defense of Harry K. Thaw, whose second trial will begin on December 2 next.

Martin W. Littleton, chief counsel for Thaw, it is stated, has decided on this course. He is said to be convinced that Thaw is insane.

Ever since he took charge of the case, it is said Mr. Littleton has given the question of Thaw's mentality careful study. He has traced the Thaw family tree, and, it is said, has decided that the insanity of Thaw may have been an inheritance.

The Only Survivor of the Hayes Arctic Expedition, Mr. S. J. McCormick, now U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor, Bliss Station, Idaho, says: "For years I have suffered from severe pains in the hip joint and back bone, depriving me of all power. The cause was Stone in the Bladder and Gravel in the Kidneys. After using Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., I was completely cured."

A lazy liver may be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. A stick is all right for the back of a lazy man. But it would be a savage as well as a stupid thing to beat a weary man or a starving man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging liver it is a great mistake to lash it with drastic drugs. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred a torpid or sluggish liver is but a symptom of an ill-nourished body, whose organs are weary with over-work. Let your liver alone. Start with the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in proper working order, and see how quickly your liver will become active and energetic. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs. RED TAPE IN THE ELEVATOR.

How It Binds in Washington, and How It Annoys With Its Binding.

The tribulations of the conductors on the elevators in the state, war and navy building are many, says the New York Sun. There is as much etiquette on one of these cars on a busy day as one would find at one of the big dinners at the White House.

The approach of the Secretary of State, of War, of the Navy in the direction of one of these "lifts" is signaled by a peculiar clapping of the hands by all the messengers or veterans who guard the aproaches to the building.

So, at the sounds of "three bells" on the push button (a secretary call), no matter who is on the elevator, be he an admiral or a general, the lever is reversed,down or up it goes, as the indicator reads, and the secretary is carried at once to the floor of his destination for there is no stopping at the floors to take on or let off anybody else.

Now comes the time when the keen discretion of the conductor—his remembrance of faces and his knowledge of ranks of army and navy officers and their precedence—is brought into play.

For instance, on the day of the funeral of a well known general, the building was alive with officers in full dress uniform on their way to St. John's church to attend the ceremonies. A major of cavalry from Fort Myer, Va., having business at the quartermaster's department, was on the elevator and was being shot up to the third floor, when "three bells" announced the Secretary of War at the ground floor. Down went the elevator. The secretary and the major saluted and before the salutaion was over "two bells" rang, meaning that an officer of high rank wished to ride in a jiffy.

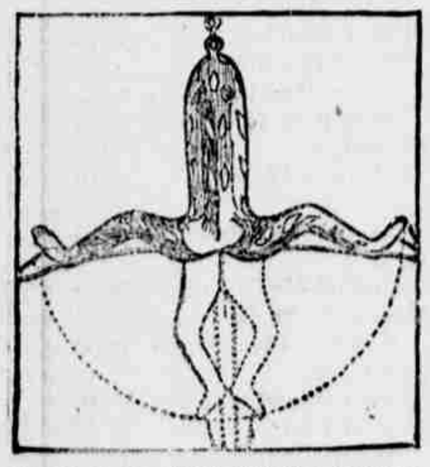
The secretary, of course, was "it," and was first ushered out at the second floor. Then up flew the elevator to the fourth floor, to answer the "two bells," to take on a brigadier general who desired to descend to the street floor. More saluting by the major. Down shot the elevator. The brigadier departed, and the major, who had been carried past his destination twice, now breathed a sigh of relief, but just then "two bells" rang again on the second floor, and this time the chief of staff, with the rank of lieutenant general, got aboard, and down the major went again, salute and all.

After the chief of staff went, the ever polite conductor, turning to the junior officer, and observing his rank and insignia, said, "Major, what floor, please?"

"The third, please," replied the belated officer, "but the next time I want it I'll walk."

An Alluring Bait.

Among the recent advances in the construction of lures for game fishes nothing has been more conspicuous than the fact that the best method of getting the quarry was to make something that the fish really wanted. Now a frog is practically irresistible to any well-conditioned bass, and especially a good lively frog that goes kicking down the lake or the river fairly daring the attention of the bass. The most lifelike bait put on the American market is the new Swimming Frog, which wonderfully simulates the appearance and the motion of the live frog. Made of rubber with hooks that are concealed in the legs of the lure, and so located that when drawn through the water weeds are not caught in the hooks either at the time that the legs are extended or drawn together, it is hard for the critical angler to think of any way in which this most ingenious and perfect lure could be improved.



There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

BUTTER FROM COCOANUT OIL.

Kept Fifteen Days Without Showing Any Change in Composition.

Dr. Henner, a German chemist, experimented with cocoanut oil, and finds that it makes a very satisfactory article of butter. It contains 7 per cent of soluble acids, namely, butyric acid and caprio or decyclic acid, which gives the butter a pleasant aroma and savor, making it taste something like a hazelnut. This butter will keep fifteen or twenty days before showing any acid reaction, and sustains many of the tests of true butter, for which it is a better substitute than oleomargarine, and can be produced much more cheaply. Posterity will face a scarcity of milk and the butter made therefrom, so rapid is the increase of population and so restricted in comparison the available area for pasturage, and perhaps the cocoa tree may come in as the most useful auxiliary of the cow anywhere to be found.

Hog's Keen Sense of Hearing.

"Hogs have a much keener sense of hearing than most people seem to think," said a man from the country. "They can see well and at a considerable distance, but the most and eyes of the hog must give first place to the ears.

This is so, no doubt, because hearing is probably the most useful of the senses in the hog life, particularly at that season of the year when the hog in the wild state must rely upon the fruitage of trees, in the main, for food. Even with this advantage it is frequently a fierce race to see which hog can get there first. It would be interesting to know just how far a hog can hear an acorn fall. It is remarkable how quickly they become cognizant of the fact that an acorn has been blown from its outer shell, and tumbling toward the ground, and he seems to catch the sound quicker when he knows a competitor is near who will run him a race for the nut. I have witnessed some fierce and interesting races between hogs, with an acorn as the stake.

"Put a hog within twenty yards of an oak and in nine cases out of ten he will beat the acorn to the place. In nine cases out of ten the hog will be within a few feet of where the acorn strikes the ground, another fact which argues superiority of the hog's hearing. He can apparently tell pretty well by the sound where the acorn will fall, and he will rarely miss it more than a few feet. —New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Sex of Bones.

The sex of bones has been much discussed by anatomists and anthropoligists. Dr. Brinton some time ago stated his belief that, with the exception of the pelvis, sex could not be determined from an examination of the bones. That is to say, if a given arm or leg bone or rib or skull or all of the bones of a skeleton except the pelvis are found, the sex of the individual cannot be decided with any certainty. Dr. Thomas Dwight, of the Harvard Medical School, who has recently been investigating the subject, agrees with Dr. Brinton's conclusions in the main, but adds that when the fresh bones with the front cartilages in place are obtainable, sex can be determined with some certainty. In the male the heads of the femur (high bone) and the humerus (upper arm) are regularly larger than in the other joints. By careful examination of these articulations the sex can be ascertained in a large number of cases. With old skeletons this test is of course not available.

Growth of Human Hair.

It is a curious fact that a boy's hair grows one-half slower than a girl's. In boys the average growth is three feet three inches in six years, being an average of .018 inch a day. During the twenty-first and twenty-fourth years a man's hair grows quicker than at any other period. It takes an eye-lash twenty weeks to reach a length of .429 inch, and then its life is from 100 to 150 days. By means of a camera the wink of an eyelid has been measured, and it was found that twenty winks can be made in four seconds.

An Ancient Custom.

An ancient practice is followed in Fulham palace, the Bishop of London's residence. The lodgekeeper, whose duty it is to arouse the servants in the morning, goes around the quadrangle with a slender rod about fifteen feet long and taps with it on the windows of the servants' sleeping rooms.

In Spain Hebrews are not permitted to erect or maintain houses of worship. They have no civil rights and exist in the kingdom only as aliens.

KAISER IN BAD HEALTH.

To Rest in the Isle of Wight—Kaiserine Won't Go to England.

London, Nov. 7.—The arrangements for the visit of the Kaiser and Kaiserin to the British court have been suddenly altered, causing surprise here and in Berlin.

It was announced that the Kaiserin would not come to England and that the Kaiser, after his court visit, would stay privately for a few weeks on the Isle of Wight for reasons of health. It was explained that the Kaiserin has been nursing Princess Alexandra of Sonderburg-Glucksburg, the financee of her son, Prince August, who has been suffering from chicken pox at the Berlin Castle, and feared she might convey the infection to members of the British royal family. She is also anxious concerning her own daughter, Princess May, who is already infected by the disease, and hence she reluctantly abandoned her visit.

KAISER WILHELM.

The Kaiser has been suffering from catarrh, and has been in bed part of the time for several days. He is still far from well, and his physicians have advised him to recuperate by visiting the Isle of Wight for a few weeks.

WORLD'S GREATEST SOPRANO.

That is the Judgment of London on Mme. Tetrazzini.

London, Nov. 5.—London is enthusiastic over the appearance of an operatic soprano who, the critics say, possesses a voice far above all rivals—practically a perfect voice.

The soprano in question is Mme. Tetrazzini, who, I believe, sang in America without making any great furor.

Here there is no limit to the enthusiasm she has aroused. She sang Violetta in "La Traviata" at the Convent Garden Opera House, and she is the sole topic in muscial circles to-day.

"The voice of a century" is the phrase employed by one very competent musical judge.

Hitchcock Missing.

New York, Nov. 7.—Raymond Hitchcock, the star of "A Yankee Tourist," who was arrested on a charge made by a young girl concerning occurrences in 1906, and who reently had two men arrested for blackmailing him in connection with this and other charges, was missing on Wednesday last.

The matinee and evening performance went on, Wallace Beery, Hitchcock's understudy, taking the leading part. The Grand Jury filed six indictments against Hitchcock on that day.

To Demolish Paine's House.

New York, Nov. 5.—The old house in North Street, New Rochelle, formerly the home of Thomas Paine, author of "The Age of Reason," has just been sold for $100, and it is reported that the purchaser will dismantle it and use it for firewood. The owner of the house, Charles W. See, has just completed a new residence, and as there is not room for two buildings on his land, the Paine house which has been one of the landmarks of New Rocelle for nearly 200 years, will have to go.

WHITE HOUSE POLITICS.

Representative Burleson, in N. Y. Sun.

There is no doubt in my mind that Mr. Roosevelt proposes to be the nominee of the Republican party next year. As I see the matter he is bending all his energies and exhausting all the resources of a political cunning without parallel in my experience to compel the Republicans to nominate him by acclamation. Although he renounced all such ambitions after his triumphant election in 1904, and has since permitted different persons supposed to share his confidence to assert that he still adheres to the decision proclaimed three years ago, the fact remains that those closest to him are most insistent that he must serve another term whether he will or not. Members of the intimate White House circle, fresh from communion with the object of their idoltary, can be heard almost any day explaining that the President, whatever may be his personal preferences, cannot be allowed to abandon the nation in the hour of its need; that he will be forced to sacrifice himself upon the altar of patriotism at the demand of a reverent and adoring people.

Everybody having any sort of acquaintance with men and things at Washington knows perfectly well that Mr. Roosevelt could put an end to this kind of gabble if he wished to. They are his own familiar cuckoos, most of them his personal appointees, all of them his humble and expectant toadies. That they continue to preach the necessity of four more years of Roosevelt is proof enough that the President approves, even if he has not actually inspired, their servile clamor.

The President's affectations are transparent enough to those who care to scrutinize them. He proclaims his policies as the augurs of old used to proclaim the oracles, but who knows what they mean excepting panic and disaster? If he wanted to punish culprits he could have done so. He could do so yet. If his purpose were to pillory the individual malefactor and thereby assure the country of protection against its spoliators he might easily populate a dozen penitentiaries within six months. But he doesn't intend or desire any of these things. The criminals—I mean the known ones—are important forces in his party or lavish contributors to his campaign fund. To disturb them would be to imperil the apotheosis of 1908. Even the angel of rescue and salvation needs stage mechanism and a scientific manipulation of the lights. The arrest and indictment of forty or fifty reliable party workers and subscribers might easily paralyze his most ingenious arrangements.

If Theodore Roosevelt be not the next Republican President of the United States the enlightened historian of the future will make it very plain that the deliverance was due entirely to the miraculously quickened conscience and intelligence of the American people.

KNOX BOOM FALLS FLABBY.

Senator Unable to Arouse Enthusiasm in Home City.

Senator P. C. Knox's presidential boom seems to have burst so far as his own town and county are concerned if the attitude of the Allegheny county leaders is any indication. Senator Knox has aroused a most violent feeling against him by his demeanor upon his recent visit, and his apparent indifference to the campaign in the county. One of the leaders of the Republican County Committee is quoted as saying:

"Senator Knox has not contributed one cent nor a kind word in the Republican campaign in his home town. He has not been asked to contribute a cent nor will he be. He has done nothing for the Republicans of Allegheny county in this fight, and can't expect much to be done for him later."

The Senator has been in town for a week and will remain until after the election, it is stated by friends, but it is thought by others that he will remain in Pittsburg until the financial situation has become easier.

Two weeks ago, when a big Republican meeting was planned for Pittsburg Senator Knox was invited to speak, but for some unexplained reason he was unable to appear. So the Republican Committee went into Ohio and secured a Taft boomer for the principal speaker of the evening. Thus was the Taft boom launched in Allegheny county in the home city and county of Senator Knox.

ARE ENTITLED TO PAY.

School Directors Who Attend the Annual Meeting of County Association.

School directors who are faithful to their duties are entitled to pay when they leave their various occupations and attend the annual meetings of the county association of school directors. There are many directors who are not able financially to attend at their own expense of time and money. The act signed by the governor, providing for paying the directors $2 per day for two days and mileage at the rate of three cents per mile while attending these meetings, is therefore a just law.

The annual meetings of the county directors are for the purpose of broadening the minds of the directors and increasing their usefulness as school managers. The man who does not take enough interest in the schools under his charge to attend the meetings of directors is unfit to serve in that capacity, and the man who is desirous of improving his capacity to perform his duties should be encouraged to do so by having his expenses paid when he attends the directors' gatherings.

Help! Help! I'm Falling

Thus cried the hair. And a kind neighbor came to the rescue with a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor. The hair was saved! This was because Ayer's Hair Vigor is a regular hair medicine. Falling hair is caused by a germ, and this medicine completely destroys these germs. Then the healthy scalp gives rich, healthy hair.

WASHINGTON

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 31, 1907.

On Nov. 16th there will be a new state added to the sisterhood. That is the date the President has set for issuing the Oklahoma proclamation. It might have been done sooner as the document is now in Washington, but there is a good deal of business waiting to be cleaned up before the territorial courts and the date of the proclamation has been set back as far as it can be under the law.

It is interesting to note that though the new state will be proclaimed and admitted, there will not be another star added to the flag till next fourth of July. Then there will be a new flag issued with 46 stars in the field instead of the present 45. This is a matter of custom. New flags will not be issued in all cases, but the stars will be arranged with eight in some of the rows instead of six, preserving the balanced rectangle of the field and making the change only appreciable to the trained observer.

Congress is always well to the front, with new inventions either when there is a chance to spend money or to add to the convenience of the senators or representatives or both. The latest thing proposed is a central dictating and type writing bureau for the new House and Senate office building at the Capitol and for such of the members as want to work by the new method from the rooms in the old Capitol building. The scheme is a device of the Sweedish inventor Poulsen, he of wireless telephone fame. It is a machine that will take dictation over a telephone wire at a distance. It is a remarkable and uncanny acting piece of mechanism. There are two big spools carrying a very fine steel wire. This wire is wound from one spool to the other by a small motor. The dictating is done into an ordinary telephone transmitter that may be located fifty miles from the machine, but the conversation or letter or whatever is to be recorded is printed in invisible waves of magnetism on this wire as it passes over an electric needle. All that the Senator has to have on his desk is the telephone transmitter hung over a small disk like a little clock face with an indicating needle that tells him whether his recording wire is running out on the distant machine. When he finishes dictating the typewriter in the central bureau simply reverses the motor on the recording machine and puts the letter or speech into typewriting and sends it to him completed. There is no clack of a typewriter in his office, no stenographer to sit around and listen to conversations with his visitors and no dirt and muss from shaving down wax records. Dictation from any committee room can thus be taken in the central bureau and there all the work of transcribing is done. The record remains on the wire indefinitely and withstands all sorts of hard usage but can be instantly wiped out by a contrary electric current after which the wire is ready for use again.

⁂

Senator McCumber was at the White House this week with the draft of a bill that he will introduce early in the session. It provides for chartering corporations by the federal government. It is aimed to meet the demands for federal charters that have been put forth in many quarters. The books of the corporations will be open to the inspection of the Department of Commerce and Labor and the amount of stock and bonds issued will be fixed by the Department, based on the actual value of the assets of the company. Any existing corporation can apply for and secure a federal charter without reorganizing. The adoption of the federal charter is made optional and not obligatory, but it would act as such a guarantee of stability and proper administration that it is thought it would prove a valuable asset. The President did not express himself on the measure, but it is in line with some of his utterances and is likely to have the support of the administration.

⁂

James Hamilton Lewis was another of the distinguished callers at the White House. This former representative, he of the radiant whiskers, has worked up a reputation as rather an odd character. But he is an astute politician and a keen observer so that his remarks carry the weight that attaches from coming pretty close to the rank and file voter. He is rather a third term man, but what he said emphatically was that if President Roosevelt ran again, William Jennings Bryan would not. Conversely if Roosevelt did not run, Bryan would take the Democratic nomination and would draw a good deal of the strength that would otherwise go to swell the Roosevelt vote.

President Roosevelt is very well satisfied with the way in which Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou handled the government end of the recent money panic in New York. Government funds to the extent, it is said, of $25,000,000 were deposited with the national banks and this action did much to restore public confidence and relieve the money stringency which was really the chief cause of the panic. But the action of the Secretary of the Treasury has not met with such warm approval from a number of observers. It is reported that Representative T. W. Sims of Tennessee is preparing a resolution for a thorough inquiry into this use of government funds. He claims that the action was without warrant in law and predicts that as soon as the government support is withdrawn the market will go back and the panic be renewed. Mr. Cortelyou also made a good many enemies in the South at the time of the panic by refusing the same aid to the southern planters that he extended to the New York banks. Mr. Burleson of Texas called on him at that time and pointed out that many of the big cotton men of the South were being forced by the banks to sacrifice their cotton because the banks needed the money and would not hold the cotton as collateral in the warehouses as they had been in the habit of doing. He wanted a few millions of government money deposited with the national banks in the South the same as in the North. But the Secretary said that he did not see his way clear to do this.

Progress in the Panama Canal Zone.

Thanks to the capable officials now in charge, the work of constructing the Panama Canal is being pushed forward energetically and efficiently, and conditions on the Isthmus are steadily improving. This greatest of modern-engineering feats possesses many interesting features, some of which are presented in a double-page of photographs in the current issue of Leslie's Weekly. These show scenes observed recently by Miss Gertrude Beeks, of the welfare department of the National Civic Federation, who made an inspection tour in the Canal zone, by order of Secretary Taft. This is an automobile number, and it contains a variety of matter according with its title, including a neat cover drawing in colors by Victor Perard; an article by Mrs. C. R. Miller, on automobiling in Hawaii; a contribution by William P. S. Earle, on the graft ing chauffeur; and notes and comments on "The Man in the Auto." Among the illustrations are a photograph of England's famous megalithic structure Stonehenge; views of the disastrous effects of the powder-mill explosion at Fontanet, Ind.; snap-shots of football games; a picture of the Pilgrims' dinner in New York, at which the Bishop of London was a guest of honor; the photo contests, and the usual theatrical page. Harriet Quimby contributes an article on the doings and sayings of the people of the stage. The collection of utterances of notable men is a particularly good one, and the prediction of a Moslem "holy war" will be read with interest. The editor of the mining department discusses the liquidation in copper stocks, and the financial editor reviews the late declines in the stock market in an optimistic vein.

Don't Feed Him.

Tramps Have No Legitimate Excuse for Living.

There is little excuse for the existence of tramps in this section, and the men who are bumming about the country, out of employment, are doing so from choice rather than from necessity. Farmers have been complaining of scarcity of help; contractors in many cities cannot procure a sufficient number of men to carry out their construction work. The railroads are short of help, and in fact there are openings for all who want work. The able bodied man who goes begging from town to town, few of which species have made their appearance in this section of late, should be reminded of this fact rather than encouraged in their idle course by gifts from those whose bounty they ask.

THE COLUMBIAN.
BLOOMSBURG, PA.
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1907

J. E. Roys and C. W. Funston went to New York this week to attend the automobile show.

J. Lee Harman has bought the farm formerly belonging to Geo. W. Kressler, on the Light Street road.

Krickbaum's majority over Hughes for Associate Judge is 31.

Harman's majority over Sheatz is 2542.

Burglars ransacked the station of the Delaware and Lackawanna railroad at Wyoming, early on Thursday morning, breaking open money drawers and cases of goods. They carried off considerable booty.

For four weeks before Christmas THE COLUMBIAN will go into every home in Bloomsburg, and for that reason will be an excellent advertising medium. It will be made specially attractive during that time.

St. Margaret's Guild of St. Paul's church will hold a pie and cake sale Wednesday morning before Thanksgiving at 10 o'clock in the Parish House. 10-31 5t

The frame dwelling house of Augustus Heydenreich in Madison township near the Vandine Lutheran Church, was destroyed by fire last Friday. It is supposed the fire started from a spark falling on the roof from the chimney.

Samples of Calendars for 1908 are now ready at this office. Send in your order now. Don't wait until the end of the year when the choicest lots are all gone.

The calendars are for sale only, not for free distribution.

Ray Heacock, son of H. E. Heacock, died at his home in Washington, D. C. last Thursday afternoon. His age was nineteen years. They formerly lived in Bloomsburg, and H. E. Heacock was at one time proprietor of the Columbia Steam Laundry.

It is now nearly twenty years since Dr. Sheldon Jackson, of the United States Bureau of Education, obtained from Congress an appropriation to import reindeer from Siberia across the Behring Strait. During the first year sixteen deer were brought over by Dr. Jackson personally. During successive years others were imported, until nearly a thousand had come altogether. There are today no less than 16,000 domesticated reindeer distributed in herds along the North Alaskan coast.

John G. Harman made a splendid fight in the state in his canvas for the office of State Treasurer, but he was fighting against tremendous odds, and so-called Independent Republicans, under the lash of the machine, and the cry of "loyalty to party," stuck to the ticket in spite of the exposure of their leaders who hold high offices at Harrisburg, showing them to be either idiots or thieves.

Mr. Harman comes out of the conflict smilingly. His big majority in his own county, regardless of party, shows in what esteem he is held here.

A Township School Closed.

The State Board of Health has closed the public schools of East Cameron township, Northumberland county, because the parents of students refused to allow them to be vaccinated. None of the taxpayers' children will be permitted to attend the schools again until vaccinated.

WARNING TO DIRECTORS.

Must Enforce Health Law.

State Health Commissioner Dr. Samuel G. Dixon has sent out a warning, which will be read with interest everywhere throughout the state, to the effect that school directors must see to it that the health laws are observed. Dr. Dixon says they will be rigidly enforced "to the end of even cutting off the school appropriations, followed by the prosecution of principal and teachers." He cites the laws compelling directors to examine as to the sanitation in and about schools; the vaccination law and the execution of the outbuilding law. He does not intend to give more warnings, but his first action will be to have the state appropriation withdrawn and the other penalties will follow so the report of the interview says. Directors should see that the laws are observed.

Points in Good Dressing.

A well-shosen veil may be expensive, but enable a last season's hat to do further service when otherwise new headwear would be necessary. Smart small belongings are what enable an economical woman to make her few gowns fit in well for any of the many occasions where they must serve.

To be quite up to date, the walking dress should be black or darkly tinted, very well cut, and made after rather severely tailored lines. The hat may have all the color that the suit lacks.

No article of a woman's wardrobe pays better in effectiveness and lasting results than handsome fur, only, for real service, she would better choose mink than chinchilla or ermine.

A long coat that covers and protects the dress, and that is in itself an adornment as well as a garment for service, is a necessity for every woman who makes any pretense to good dressing. The wise woman whose conveyance is street car or train rejoices in a cloak that looks suitable on the way, yet is pretty enough to pass muster at the theater.

Origin of the Potato-bug.

From Leslie's Weekly.

The original potato-bug lived somewhere in the highlands of Central America. From him descended the great-grandfather of the insect in question—the striped black-and-white creature which still inhabits the coast of the Caribbean Sea. This insect never saw a potato plant; it lived on the wild sand-bur. This plant is distantly related to cultivated potato; but until comparatively lately (as such terms are understood in discussions of evolution), no "potato-bug" has been anything but a sand-bur bug.

When the Spaniards invaded Mexico, in 1519, they introduced horses, and as the conquerors went north the sand-bur plants multiplied in regions where they had never been seen before, and the sand-bur beetle followed them. From these migratory beetles descended the present Colorado beetle, which was first recognized as a new species in the seventeenth or eighteenth century; but even up to 1823 it still lived on the wild sand-bur, and was not abundant or troublesome. With the western movement of civilization, however, the sand-bur beetle and Irish potatoes were brought in contact, and it was not long before the beetle decided in favor of the potato-stalks as against the fare furnished by the sand-bur. He began to be a potato-bug, and so rapidly did he thrive upon his new nourishment that inside of forty years he was known and execrated everywhere in the United States.

1500 Tons of Food for Fleet.

Two Ships to Carry the Provisions on Long Journey.

At the Brooklyn Navy Yard the machinery has been set in motion by which the food supply for 15,000 officers and enlisted men who are to start for the Pacific next month in the fleet of battleships, torpedo boats and auxiliaries will be stowed away in the holds of the supply ships Glacier and Culgoa, which are to carry all the provisions for the ships. Approximately 3,000,000 pounds, or 1500 tons of food will be taken.

Many articles of food now served out to the enlisted men, the old-time sailor never dreamed of being able to eat at sea, such as condensed milk, canned peaches and pears, nuts, jellies, chocolate and other sweets.

Besides the 500,000 pounds of flour that the Glacier is to carry, she will have 65,000 pounds of frankfurter sausage and 20,000 pounds of bologna sausage. Six thousand dozen eggs, to be issued at Trinidad, will also be taken on board as well as 250,000 pounds of potatoes.

Fourteen thousand pounds of smoking and 4000 pounds of plug tobacco, together with 37000 cigars and 27,000 cigarettes, will accommodate the wants of the smokers. The 500,000 pounds of fresh beef, the chickens, mutton and other perishable articles will not be taken on board until the last moment.

The Culgoa will take the same amount of stores as the Glacier. Both ships will take their coal on board this week.

Gaiety, Music and "The Toymakers."

Good music and plenty of fun are great factors in the success of an opera and this new musical absurdity is brim full of both. Old and young look for amusement in this dull world but it is seldom found in such quantity as in this opera of "The Toymakers." It is a great combination of cheery, clean sport and bright songs full of melody and swing that catch the audience immediately on the rising of the curtain and keep it in great good humor. Everyone remembers that famous book "Quincy Adams Sawyer" and the success it made through the country as a play. It depicted in an original manner the customs and character of New England people and was called "the best New England story ever written," with great justice to its clever author, Charles Felton Pidgin, who has added another to his list of successful books. He also wrote the play for "The Toymakers" and about twenty-six new songs that are gems of good taste and gaiety. Blake and Bennett of Boston wrote the music which is a guarantee of high class work that should be a model for all comic operas. The scenic equipment is most elaborate, both costumes and scenery having been designed for "The Jollities" who give "The Toymakers" at the Opera House on Thursday Nov. 21 for one night only. The great secret of this gay opera lies in the fact that the great audience entirely forgets itself and gives itself up to love and laughter of the rarest kind. It is highly amused from rise to fall of the curtain and that is the stern demand of an audience in these days. The pretty scenes are laid in an old English town this time, at a picturesque inn and in that quaint shop of an old toymaker who dwells there with his merry crew and makes a wonderful doll that he brings to life by electricity. Daisy Dane, the belle of the village, slips into the place of the lovely doll and proceeds to astonish the inventor and the audience with her audacious, lively feats which produce the queerest situations one could imagine. To sum up, it is a strong, healthy play of vigorous action and spirited music.

Appointed U. S. Attorney.

Charles B. Witmer, of Sunbury, Republican leader of Northumberland county, former marshal of the United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania, Saturday received his commission as United States Attorney from President Roosevelt to succeed S. J. M. McCarrell, recently appointed a Judge of the Dauphin County Court.

Mr. Witmer's official residence for the present is Harrisburg, which will no doubt later be changed to Sunbury. The district reaches from the Allegheny mountains to the Delaware river and from New York to Maryland, comprising thirty-four counties, including Columbia.

Prop Timber.

Scientists Planning for Its Preservation.

The cost of every ton of anthracite is increased eight cents by the expense of the mine timbers. To supply these timbers requires each year the product of approximately 150,000 acres of forest. Timber is used for cross-ties for tram-roads in the main haulage ways, as wooden rollers, and as props. A "set" of gangway timber consists of two legs, commonly nine or ten feet long and averaging about thirteen inches in diameter, and a collar, six to seven feet long. These sets are placed on an average at intervals of five feet; one gangway frequently contains 1,000 sets; and ten gangways to a colliery is not an unusual number.

The average life of the timber is hardly above two years. Forty-five per cent. of the timbers are destroyed by decay, while breakage, wear, and insects destroy the remainder. By peeling the timbers and properly seasoning them, and especially by giving them a treatment in oils or chemical salts, their length of service is materially increased.

In an industry where the cost of timber is so large an item it is important to know what method of preservative treatment will give the greatest service at the least expense. To determine this, experiments were conducted in the seasoning and treating of mine timbers, principally pine, oak and chestnut. The last two woods were investigated largely to determine their suitability for planting in the anthracite region as a source of supply of mine timbers. The results show that peeled timber is superior in durability to unpeeled timber, and if it is peeled and seasoned for from two to four months in the woods there is an additional saving in freight and in yard room at the mines. Peeling costs from ten to twenty-five cents per set. With creosote at nine cents a gallon, mine props can be treated with a brush at a cost of one and one-half cents a cubic foot, or forty cents per set. If a timber checks, however, an opening is made through the portion protected by creosote, and decay sets in. By the use of closed cylinders a very thorough treatment is secured, but at an average cost of between $3 and $4 per set of mine timbers. A method of treatment less expensive than by the closed cylinders, and yet which secures a penetration of creosote adequate to meet most conditions, is by the open tank.

A fine new line of Wedding invitations just received at this office. 3t.

New Route to Pole.

Captain Amundson to Try Again in 1910.

Captain Raold Amundsen, the Norwegian Arctic explorer, who is visiting in Washington, said that he would make another attempt to reach the North Pole in 1910.

"My head is full of plans for my next expedition," he said, "none of which has been fully worked out or finally decided upon. I have determined, however, to make my next trip through the Behring Strait, rather than by the eastern route selected by Commander Peary. It is probable that I shall also take with me about the same number of men—seven—and possibly stay for the same length of time in the frozen North."

Captain Amundsen spent three years in the North and definitely located the magnetic pole. He also succeeded in navigating the northwestern passage. He did not have much faith in the attempt which is to be made by Walter Wellman to reach the North Pole by means of a balloon.

"Wellman may attempt a balloon trip to the pole," commented Captain Amundsen, "but I would not accompany him. Balloons and airships are uncertain under normal conditions, and I see no prospect for their successful use in the Arctic regions where snowstorm and ice and atmospheric depressions abound on every hand. I am afraid any balloon expedition will be an ill-fated one."

Captain Amundsen thinks that Commander Peary is "without doubt the best explorer now engaged in the search of the North Pole."

Anthracite Centennial.

Wyoming Valley to Celebrate Use of Coal for Domestic Purposes.

The Wyoming Valley Historical and Geological Society has arranged for the celebration on February 11, 1908, of the one hundredth anniversary of the first burning of anthracite coal in a commercial grate. It has been decided to strike off a medal commemorating the event.

Coal was first successfully burned in a grate by Judge Jesse Fell in the old Fell tavern in Wilkes-Barre, and the room where the experiment took place is still preserved. The outcroppings of "stone coal" in the valley were abundant, but no one thought of turning the new discovery to domestic use until Judge Fell conceived the idea that it could be done.

He constructed in the open hearth of the main room of the old Fell tavern a grate of iron bars, imbedded in brick work, and made the experiment. There was a fine draught up the big chimney and soon the coal was red hot, and the experiment was a success.

Superstitions About Babies.

"You mothers," said a college girl disdainfully, "have the silliest superstitions about your babies. For my graduating thesis I am compiling the baby superstitions of the world's mothers. They're the most ludicrous things. Listen:

"In Russia they think a baby and a kitten can't thrive in the same house. They kill the kitten as soon as the baby comes.

"In Spain they won't let a baby under three see its reflection in a mirror. Otherwise they think it will grow up vain, proud and cruel.

"In Romania babies all wear blue ribbons around the left ankle to ward off evil spirits.

"In Hungary they think that if you dress a girl baby in red she will turn out bad.

"In India it is good luck for a baby to fall out of bed.

"Irish babies keep strands of women's hair in their cradles to protect them from sickness."

Costly Walls of Panama.

When the Spaniards built the city of Panama to be the great port of their Pacific commerce they put around it walls which they expected to save them from raiders of all sorts. Although these walls were built by natives forced to work almost for nothing, they cost says Mr. Forbes-Lindsay, not less than $11,000,000.

The King of Spain, the story goes, looked wearily and long one day out of the westerly windows of his palace. One of his Minstrels inquired the reason for his apparent anxiety.

"I am looking," said the King, "for those costly walls of Panama. They ought to be visible even at this distance."

Stone Acts as Weather Guide.

A small stone has been lodged in the British museum which is somewhat of a mystery. It has been named the "semakuir." It comes from Finland and the Finns are said to tell the weather by it. The stone changes its appearance through absorbing the moisture in the air preceding rain, when it becomes black.

CRIES OF ANIMALS AND BIRDS.

Vocal Effects Which Startle Persons Unfamiliar With Dumb Brutes.

The human voice, with all its modulations and inflections, is a wonderful thing, yet it is imitated closely by birds and animals.

The effect produced by these upon persons who hear them for the first time is one in which astonishment and uncanniness are blended.

A species of crow in India has a note which exactly resembles the human voice in loud laughing.

The Australian bird called the "laughing jackass," when warning his feathered mates that daybreak is at hand, utters a cry resembling a troop of boys shouting, whooping, and laughing in a wild chorus.

The nightjar has a cry like one lamenting in distress.

Among birds that have the power of imitation the parrot is the best known; but, as a matter of fact, its voice is decidedly inferior to that of the mina, a species of starling. Curiously enough, the male bird speaks in a high, clear tone, like that of a child, while the female has a gruff voice.

Another bird of Australia, the morepork, is frequently heard vehemently demanding more pork, in a clear, stentorian voice.

One whippoorwill also demands his punishment in a distinct imitation of the human voice, and the command of the guinea fowl to come back could easily be mistaken for a human voice.

Coming to quadrupeds, the cries of none approach more closely that of the human voice than those of the seals when lamenting the loss of their young.

The cry of a wounded hare resembles that of a child in distress, while the familiar back-fence wail of the common cat sometimes startles with its sound of a human infant's cry.

A Medium Exposed.

A former grocer in England who turned "medium" has been exposed. A darkened room was necessary to him, and also one particular chair. It was discovered that he carried the necessary apparatus for making "ghosts" in a cabinet in the back of that chair. In the dark it was comparatively easy for him, aided by a dummy head and other accessories, to pose as a spirit. The make-up consisted of a mask of China silk, which fitted over his head, a paper mask, a piece of black cloth and a black sleve, a wire coat-hanger, an iron hook, one or two wigs, an electric flashlight, and a few yards of wire. The "ghost" disappeared and reappeared by raising and lowering the black cloth, which was, of course, invisible in the dark.

Splitting Granite With Air.

The expansive force of compressed air is employed in a very interesting way by a North Carolina granite company. On a sloping hillside, composed of granite which shows no bed planes, but splits readily in any direction when started, a three inch bore is sunk about eight feet deep, and the bottom is enlarged by exploding half a stick of dynamite.

A small charge of powder is fired in this hole, which starts a horizontalcrack cleavage. Charges increasing in size are exploded until the cleavage has extended over a radius of 75 or 100 feet. Then a pipe is cemented into the bore, and air is forced in, under a pressure of from 80 to 100 pounds. The expansion of the air extends the cleavage until it comes out at the surface on the slope of the hill. A horizontal sheet of granite several acres in extent may thus be separated.

LANDSLIDE BURIES 1,500

Village of Karatagh, Turkestan, Destroyed in Earthquake.

MAJORITY KILLED

First Reports of the Casualties Were Exaggerated, Placing the List of Dead At 15,000.—Governor and His Mother Among the Survivors. —Town a Summer Resort.

Tashkend, Russian Turkestan, Nov 7.—The little town of Karatagh, in the Hissar district of Bokhara, has been overwhelmed and completely destroyed by a landslide that followed the earthquake of Oct. 21. According to the latest reports of the disaster a majority of the inhabitants of Karatagh lost their lives.

The first reports of the casuailties were exaggerated, the death list being placed as high as 15,000. Karatagh has about 2,500 dwellers, and there is reason to believe that about 1,500 were buried alive.

Among those who survived the disaster are the Governor of Karatagh and his mother.

Karatagh is remotely situated, and it takes a full week for news to get out from there, but according to one courier who has come through an enormous section of the Karatagh Mountain, which practically hung over the town, broke loose and thundered down upon the village, which is almost completely buried.

Efforts are being made to get in communication with the survivors and to send in such relief as may be required.

Karatagh is noted for its manufactories of sabres, cutlery, and fine silks, and is used as a Summer resort by the people of Hissar. It is 2,500 feet above the sea.

SHOOTS HER SISTER.

Woman Playfully Points Revolver—Usual Result.

Richmond, Va. Nov. 7—Mrs. R. L. Patterson, twenty-eight years old, was shot and probably fatally injured by her sister, Mrs. P. J. McDonnell, who had pointed an old and supposedly unloaded revolver at her sister at the supper table, demanding a second helping of salad. The two women were seated a few feet from each other—so close, in fact, that a lamp on the table went out with the report of the revolver.

Mrs. Patterson was hurried to the Virginia Hospital, where an operation was performed in an effort to relieve her brain of the particles of the bullet, which had been shattered. Another operation will probably be performed. It is said that there is practically no chance of the woman recovering. The shooting was witnessed by Mrs. Patterson's two small children and by a second sister.

BURN 250,000 POSTAL CARDS.

Philadelphia Authorities Act Under Supervision of Comstock.

Philadelphia, Penn., Nov. 7.—Nearly a quarter of a million picture postal cards confiscated by postal authorities recently were burned in the basement of the Federal Building in this city. The cards were destroyed under the supervision of Anthony Comstock, Secretary of the Anti-Vice Society of New York.

The value of the cards at retail, it is said, was about $3,000.

Aged Horsewoman's Bet.

Marysville, Ohio, Nov. 5.—Miss Annetta Wilbur, eighty-nine years old, will ride on horseback one hundred miles to Hamilton, Ohio, on a wager. Despite her advanced age, Miss Wilbur is an enthusiastic horsewoman, and is a member of the newly organized Bit and Spur Club.

Some of the woman's friends, also members of the club, in commenting upon her ability as a horsewoman declared their belief she could not stand a journey of one hundred miles. She immediately took them up and wagered a dinner for the club that she could make the trip with ease. She will start in two weeks.

Woman in Auto Killed.

Concord, Mass., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Nellie W. Conant, wife of Herbert E. Conant of Newton, was killed in an automobile accident here.

Accompanied by her husband and by Mr. and Mrs. Barnes of Newton, she was riding along Walden Street in a steam runabout. When in trying to pass another machine the steering gear became jammed and the runabout crashed into a telegraph pole at the side of the road. Mrs. Conant was thrown against the pole and her skull was crushed. The others of the party escaped with bruises.

Rich Woman a Burglar.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Evelyn Romandka, wife of the wealthy trunk manufacturer, pleaded guilty before Judge Brentone to five indctments, three charging burglary and the others larceny. Sentence will be pronounced in a day or two.

There is no escape for the woman now from the penitentiart. It is believed that she will be sentenced on one indictment, the others remaining over her. The penalty for burglary is from one to fourteen years.

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

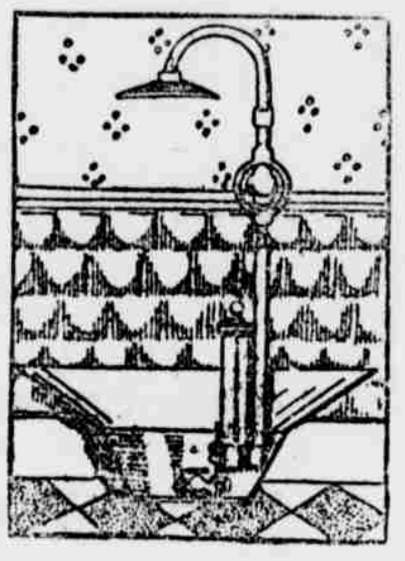
The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

PORTABLE SHOWER BATH.

Apparatus for Providing Continual Shower With Little Water.

It is now possible for the individual to get a morning shower bath, no matter where he or she is located, as a Michigan man has invented a portable shower bath that overcomes all difficulties usually met with.

As shown in the illustration, the portable shower bath consists of a shallow circular basin, wide enough for a person to stand in. Projecting from the edges is a deep inclined flange. A partition divides the tub into two compartments. Mounted in one of the compartments is a pump, from which projects upright pipes and nozzle. The inventor works on the assumption that but a few gallons of water are available. Such being the case, it is placed in the tub. It is then pumped by a person standing in the tub to the nozzle, descending in the usual spray The duration of the bath is not limited on account of the meagre supply of water, as it is possible to use the same water over and over again, as it eventually finds its way back into the basin again. The entire apparatus can be quickly taken apart and packed in a trunk.



WATER PUMPED TO NOZZLE.

A New Kind of Bread.

An entirely new kind of bread, made either of wheat or rye, is becoming popular in Germany, and is likely soon to be introduced into this country. It is made of the whole grain—but not according to any method hitherto familiar.

The grain is germinated by alternate steeping in warm water and aeration, this being accomplished by a simple mechanical apparatus. As soon as rootlets appear it is ready for use, and is crushed to fineness between rollers, after which it is dropped through a chute into an iron trough on the floor below, where it is kneaded by a machine.

The preliminary process is one of malting—similar to the malting of barley. All the water used in the sprouting process, which contains a large part of the mineral salts of the grain, is poured into the iron trough to make the dough. Thus nothing is lost, the entire substance of the grain being included in the dough, which, with the addition of yeast and salt, is finally formed into loaves and baked in the ordinary fashion.

The bread thus made is said to have a delicious flavor. It is claimed for it that the process of germination makes the substances of the grain much more digestible.

Outrage and Murder at Renovo.

The two-fold crime of outraging and murdering nine-years-old Mary Donley at Renovo, is now charged against William Donley, uncle of the murdered girl. His arrest followed several days of most diligent and painstaking work, during which the gathering of evidence was shrewdly and quietly conducted. Public sympathy goes out to the Donley family, and has increased since the circumstances surrounding the crime appear the more deplorable, with a blood relation accused of the crime. A visit to Lock Haven Sunday failed to bring out any of the details of the case so far as the grounds for holding the accused goes. A policy of strict official reticence is being adhered to.

The prisoner could not be approached. From statements that were made, however, it is believed that Donley is on the verge of mental and physical collapse. It is authoritively stated that the charge of murder can be sustained, it is believed, on the evidence now in possession of the authorities. One thing that is not known, however, is where the crime was committed. A hearing probably will be given the prisoner at an early date. When and where, of course, will not be made public.

DONLEY, THE PRISONER.

William Donley, the prisoner, who in the Clinton county jail at Lock Haven is kept aloof from everyone except the authorities whose connection with the murder case takes them to him, is a brother of the murdered girl's father. He is 35 years of age, a molder, who was employed in the Pennsylvania railroad shops. In appearance he is about five feet ten inches tall, somewhat stooped and weighs about 150 pounds. His hair is dark, eyes blue and face one that does not give any special indication of poor mentality, although there are some persons who claim that mentally William Donley is something of a weakling. Generally he was considered a fair workman and a rather harmless individual of no marked traits of character.

A QUIET ARREST.

How quietly Donley's arrest was effected is evident from the fact that at a late hour Friday night a correspondent endeavored to obtain information as to any developments in the case and was informed that there was none. Nevertheless, even at that time the arrest of the uncle of the murdered girl was being secretly made. At about 11 o'clock, by direction of J. J. Kintner, Esq., acting for District Attorney Hipple, William Donley was arrested at his home and was taken to Lock Haven, on Erie mail, in custody of two detectives, and lodged in the Clinton county jail.

ANTICIPATED ARREST.

The arrest of Fred Jackson was from the start taken by many persons to mean nothing, since they felt certain that Jackson did not commit the crime. And at the same time it was stated that the belief existed in some quarters that a chain of evidence was being woven around a Renovo man who was not one of the suspects confined in the jail and whose arrest would create a decided sensation. Consequently, the arrest of the uncle of the murdered girl did not come altogether unexpectedly.

NO FURTHER SEARCH.

It appears that further search is now to be dropped, and this is taken as being strongly indicative that the authorities feel certain that in William Donley they have the right man. To revert to the case of Jackson, who was placed in a steel cage after being arrested, and whose arrest was by some considered an important capture, Mrs. H. R. Burkland, of Howards, is credited with having made a statement that proves that Jackson, who was arrested at the Burkland home, could not have been in Renovo at the time the crime was committed.

CONCERNING THE EVIDENCE.

While District Attorney Hipple has made an announcement that the charge of murder is entered against Donley, the authorities are not divulging the nature of the evidence that will be adduced against the accused. There are reports, however, of such a nature as that the gag found in Mary Donley's mouth was a piece of the shirt of her uncle, that her uncle was missed from the house at about the same time the girl was—that he answers the description of the man seen carrying a bundle to the dump and that scratches on his face have not been accounted for. However, whether the above will constitute part of the evidence of the commonwealth cannot be stated.

Keeping Cool By Stoves.

A popular article of household furniture among Americans in the Philippines is said to be the "refrigerating stove." This stove is designed to keep people cool instead of hot. Just as we heat our houses in the States in winter with coal stoves so the wanderer who has set up housekeeping in the Philippines cools his house with a cold stove.

These cold stoves are made to look something like an ordinary stove and, being fed with ammonia and chemicals, give out radiations of cold waves instead of heat. One can imagine a family gathering around the refrigerating stove for coolness on a hot night in the Philippines just as on a cold night in the States they had been accustomed to gather around the parlor stove for warmth.

It is reported that more than 100 Jewish families move into Jerusalem every week. Though most of them are very poor, yet they find means to make a scanty living. Jerusalem is rapidly becoming once more a Jewish city.

The Name Porcelain.

In the natural progress of nations and the development of trade, porcelain was brought from China to Europe, and various legends were current as to its origin. Magic properties were attributed to it, as, for instance, that a porcelain cup would immediately burst if poison were poured into it. It was said to be composed of plaster, eggs, the shells of "marine locusts" and the like, and this suggests the origin of the word porcelain. The Portuguese word porcella means "little pig," and a certain shell, being shaped like a hog's back, was named porcelana. This shell was used to some extent in the arts by being carved into cameos and personal ornaments. These became porcelana wares, and when the new production became known, its likeness to the shell work was recognized. The new material thus acquired the French name porcelaine, or, in English, porcelain.

In the British museum are books written on oyster shells, bricks, tiles, bones, ivory, lead, iron, copper, sheepskin, wood and palm leaves.

Odd Facts.

A lighthouse shortly to be in operation on Lennard island, on the west coast of Vancouver island, will be the most powerful in America, being of 750,000 candle power and visible for 25 miles.

The laws of Italy are strict with regard to theaters and circuses. Every act or performance announced on the programme must be given. Any great exaggeration by means of pictures is punishable.

In London there are 34 streets named Warwick, 44 Wellingtons, 69 Yorks and 94 Victorias, and the post-office authorities complain in vain against the force of London's opinion that what is and has been should continue to be.

Story of a Photograph.

The following story of a young lady living in the country who came to London to be photographed is vouched for by a well known London photographer. After some days the lady, Miss B., was informed the photograph was not a success, and another sitting was suggested.

This she agreed to, but again she was informed that the photograph was a failure. There was a third sitting. In two days time she received an urgent letter from the photographer, asking her to come up to his studio and to bring a friend with her. Miss B. went, accompanied by her mother, and was shown the amaizng results of the three sittings.

The pictures of the girl herself were quite good, but in each plate, there was to be seen standing behind her the figure of a man holding a dagger in his uplifted hand. The features, though faint, were clearly discernible, and Miss B. recognized them as those of her fiancee, an officer in the Indian army. The effect of this experience was so great that after a few days she wrote out to India, breaking off the engagement.

Postal Officials Numerous.

According to the returns just issued by the International Union, Germany has more postal officials than any other country in the world, the total number amounting to 263,517. It must, however, be taken into consideration that in Germany the telegraph and telephone employees are included in the total, while in other countries they to a certain extent put in a separate list. The United States comes second with a total of 251,515. Great Britain occupies the third place with 192,454. All the remaining countries have each fewer than 100,000. The smallest of all postal administrations is that of the Turkey islands, which consists of one solitary official.—Exchange.
